Isaiah Shim is a Korean-American conductor and pianist based in the Baltimore-Washington area. He currently serves as Assistant Conductor of the Baltimore Chamber Orchestra and Columbia Pro Cantare.

Conducting and piano engagements in the region include Annapolis Opera, Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, Maryland Classic Youth Orchestras, Montgomery Philharmonic, National Symphony Orchestra, and Young Artists of America. His performances outside the United States include Australia, the Dominican Republic, Italy, Korea, Mexico, Thailand, and the United Kingdom.

Mr Shim received graduate degrees in conducting and collaborative piano from the Peabody Institute of the Johns Hopkins University, where he studied with Marin Alsop, Joseph Young, and Eileen Cornett. Additionally, he received Bachelor of Music degrees in piano performance and music education from Wheaton College in Illinois, where he studied piano with Dr Karin Redekopp Edwards, and conducting with Drs. Daniel Sommerville and John William Trotter.